Vegas City Opera (VCO) envisions an interdisciplinary hub of creativity, learning, and professional development for local artists and the surrounding community. They provide a nurturing environment in which performers can take chances and flourish in their performances, all the while sharing the excitement and vibrancy of contemporary opera with audiences of the Las Vegas valley. VCO is committed to serving all age groups and populations through their numerous outreach and educational programs which include programs for children with special needs, performances at senior centers and free community events. Their unique ability to create exciting and modern performances that can be tailored to any age or level of understanding sets them apart from other opera and theatre companies.

As Las Vegas' premier contemporary opera company, Vegas City Opera is dedicated to bringing affordable opera and classical music to the community in fresh and exciting new ways. Vegas City Opera is made up of the top Southern Nevada operatic artists and musicians. The roster of singers, have extensive educational backgrounds including Masters of Music and Doctorates in Music and Operatic Performance. Their post-educational training includes working with the Gratz program in Austria, San Francisco Merola and Adler Fellowships, as well as City Opera, and Houston Opera. All Vegas City Opera artists have had professional leading role experience in the United States as well as Europe, Russia and Asia.

Vegas City Opera believes that at the core of everything lies the mission to inspire, challenge, and uplift our audiences by celebrating the beauty and breadth of opera.
